What's On in the Library

Welcome to the Library Lockdown Newsletter!

World Book Day, Lockdown style

I don't think it will surprise anyone to hear it's all going to be a bit different this year!

Click here for your voucher and here to find out where you can use them.

The books are available from 18th February. Plus there will be free audiobooks on the WBD website from the same date

Remember to stay local. Max Minerva's Marvellous Bookshop on North View in Henleaze will let you show the voucher on your phone and Tesco's have emailed me that they will accept the digital voucher. Other retailers might expect you to have printed it out. See the voucher for more information.

You can see the books that are available, and click on the covers to read the first few pages here

In the meantime, Mrs Hayman's favourite book this week....

If you only had a few weeks to make things right with your best friend but couldn't let them know, how would you play it? A book full of big themes like loss and grief, forgiveness and making the most of every day. The plot perhaps struggles to keep up with it all but if you don't mind some weird science give it a go. I can forgive a lot for a good story!

Click on the cover to see the first chapter. You will need to create a free account at LoveReading4kids. Available in the library when we're back. Why not reserve it?
